Finally - end your Dating Troubles

Why is dating such a pain? The energy that goes into meeting him for a date is huge isn't it? From spending so much time getting dressed up, to the money spent on a new outfit, new makeup (maybe if he's worth it) hair, getting a baby sitter in, organising your friends to rescue you in case it's a disaster...it all takes effort doesn't it? All in the hope that you'll hit it off...

Then, maybe you get lucky and the date goes nicely, and you continue to see each other, with various levels of friendship forming (good friend, possible boyfriend, to one night stand, to casual lover.)

But then the realization - when you really think about it, how compatible will you be? Is he really going to keep being romantic, or was it just a big effort to impress? Will he respect your individuality or, lets just say it, will the sex keep being Good/ Bad/ Meh??

Wouldn't you love to know all this about a man, as if you have a crystal ball to read his personality, his likes and dislikes, and what qualities are important to him?

Well, now you can with this book – let's keep reading.

You are single, looking for love. You know you are a great girl, a lot to give in a relationship, yearning for some companionship - love, cuddles, hand holding and maybe, if the guy is right, to build a life together, create a home, have a fur child or too (practise children – a dog or cat), then maybe if it is on the "wish list", a child or two.

So why hasn't it happened?

“Because you have been looking at dating all wrong, looking for the Wrong Guy.”

Let me explain:-

Most women I have met in my clinic, and there have been thousands over the 29 years, are looking for a man that “completes” them, one that makes them feel good and loved. Others, are looking for the clichéd look “tall dark and handsome” (you can adjust description with your preference – “rugged/ successful looking/hip,” whatever that look is for you.)

They may find his photo on social media or through the many online dating sites. They read the profiles and finding one, they think, “this is the man of my dreams.” They go on a date with him only to discover his online profile was nothing short of an extract of a “perfectly created man” from wish lists of women.

Has this happened to you?

Or

Have you been on a blind date, because your friend/ mum/ work colleague said “he’s perfect” “you are sooo suited!” Only to find out it was a huge mismatch?

Or

Maybe you tried speed dating, racing through 10 questions in 1/2/5 minutes, trying to listen for the perfect answer whilst checking him out and crossing your fingers that you have indeed picked the best guy, to get his phone number?

So I hear you if you are saying I have tried all that too, and I still feel lonely, despondent, broken hearted and plain fed up!!

Are you over dating Mr Wrong?

Is there an actual shortage of decent guys out there? How hard can it be to find someone decent on the dating sites? I mean, you read the profiles, check out the photos and think that it reads well, but I hear women telling me:

“There are many men out there, a lot of them look nice – but they are real..... when I go on a date!”

Or

“I see all these profile pictures of men on the various dating sites I am with – but can I really trust their description?”

Or

“I see a nice man at work/ gym/ café/ park etc, but how do I know what he’s really like or if he would be into the things I like?”

It really hurts to not have a man to share your life with - to snuggle on the lounge with, to go out as a couple, to face the world together. To share your thoughts, goals and dreams with.

Missing out SUCKS, truly it does!

In my practice as a qualified Personologist, Kinesiologist and Counsellor, many of my single, female patients have come to my clinic over the past 29 years, asking “How can I find the Right man?”

I tell them that I know the secrets to reading a man. What I know makes it incredibly easy to know his personality before you meet, then if it feels right you’ll go on a date with him, and know exactly what topics to chat about so you’ll instantly hit it off!!

I have the Secret Insights to a man’s personality and I can’t wait to share them with you.

Things changed for so many of my women patients who learned the secrets and followed through with the simple steps of my revolutionary IPI process

Create Dating Success

Wouldn't it be so much easier, to know how to find a man that has those desirable qualities which are important to you? To find that compatibility which would lead to a loving, enjoyable and lasting relationship? And more importantly; wouldn't it be great to have the knowledge of what your Mr Right would look like? Well now you can, by learning....

Instant Personality Insights – (IPI)™

Just before we begin...(OK turn to page 10 if you can't wait, and if you are still that eager – lets get learning on page 13-14).

Dating Secrets

The solution is staring you in the FACE – Just look at his face and you will find all the clues to his personality are right there.

The eyes - they give you insight to his emotional style; the lips - they will tell you more than how great they are to kiss – did you know they also tell you about his generosity and his ability to talk deeply with you?

Next - check out the size and shape of his face – they are giving you a clear message about his confidence, leadership and assertiveness.

How about his cheekbones?! They give you great insight into his sense of adventure, and that doesn't just mean outdoor stuff, it can also mean dating and getting intimate.

Those eyebrows – they aren't just stuck there to catch sweat dripping down his face, no, they tell you so much more, about his dress and home decorating style, to his fashion sense and grooming!

Imagine you having the insights to identify facial features that will tell you appealing qualities and more importantly the ones that are on your “wish list” about his personality?

Does this true story remind you of your dating experiences?

Annie dated a few men over the years, falling in love each time, hoping that He was “The One”, her Mr Right. But each time, she would discover, that he wasn’t “The One”. He either turned out to be a two-timer, or a user, spending her money on their dates, holidays, activities, never contributing himself. Then there was the guy who was so “in love” with himself, that there was actually no room for another person in his life.

He was so self absorbed, talking non-stop about his life, his conquests, and never bothering to really listen to Annie’s input.

The final straw for Annie came, when she met “The One” (or so she thought), he seemed perfect on all levels - he was good looking, had a successful career, they had nice dates and spent a lot of time together, but he never really committed to the relationship...

He never cheated, sure, but he also never actually saw the two of them together forever.

This devastated Annie. Fed up and disillusioned, she told me that she needed to “find herself” again.

I knew she needed to recover her self-esteem and clear all the bad memories and negative beliefs that she had formed about herself resulting from these men she had dated.

Transformation

I performed Kinesiology techniques on Annie, which cleared her past memories of events and instilled a number of positive emotional states to turn her life around. I then anchored each new positive state with Colour, Symbols, Affirmation and specific Acupressure Points.

Whilst discussing Annie's newfound energy, I performed a Kinesiology Age Progression, where you project thought ahead in time and see the new you, walking, talking and acting in a positive and empowered way.

I acted as a dating coach with Annie in this visualization, telling her about Instant Personality Insights TM– whereby she could read a man's facial features and know what their personalities were like.

I asked her what type of qualities she was looking for in a man, such as, a guy who was; fun, adventurous, into a comfortable lifestyle, a great lover, time aware, and a decisive action taker. As she stated the values she was looking for, I whispered to her the description each trait as it would appear on a man's face.

Annie found that as she practised this in her visualization. She was able to quickly and effortlessly read a face and feel positive change within. She looked carefully for the eye features required, and the size of his cheekbones, then, she had fun feeling his hand, (the hand gives a lot of information about secret needs in a man). Annie learned further features and their relationship to personality needs and desires.

We completed the future visualization and I gave Annie notes of the features and the personality traits that were relevant to her desired Mr Right.

A month later, Annie rang me, she was so excited! She told me that she had practised reading faces with my IPI – and with her newfound confidence, she had chatted with a man she met in a café. They had been on 2 dates, and she told me it was a beautiful but gentle, steady relationship. He proposed 6 months after their first date and they are, to this day, still happily married.

And best of all, his features were identical to those she had learnt in our session about her desired man and his personality.

There is such power in the knowledge and use of Instant Personality Insights!!

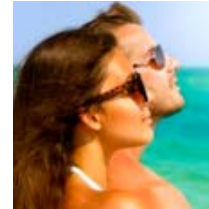

What is IPI?

In 1986 I attended a lecture conducted by the renowned Personologist, Daniel Whiteside. I was amazed when he spoke about Personology and especially when he looked at my face and totally read my personality, my likes and dislikes, my hidden talents and my personal preferences in friendships. I was shocked! How could he know so much about me, when I had not spoken a word? I was completely hooked.

He was using Personology – the art of reading facial features. It has been scientifically validated to 92% accuracy.

From that time on, I studied Personology and the many forms of face reading from Eastern and Western principles.

From this I realised that typical Eastern face reading was overwhelming with the many types of traits of each feature, and the traditional Personology was rather judgemental and antiquated in its language.

So, I blended the best of the two and, with modern language created the revolutionary Instant Personality Insights (IPI).™

Why IPI?

Why this? Using the amazing technique of my Instant Personality Insights™ (IPI), you will be able to read any person at a glance and know immediately their likes, dislikes, what activities they enjoy, and what type of lover they are.

Imagine knowing all that, just from looking at the physical features right in front of you, without the person saying a thing!! Dating is so much easier, knowing what makes a man tick, just by looking at his face!!

IPI relates to the structure of the face and skin and the connection to our behavior. The structure of each feature predisposes you to a certain function, a personality trait clearly recognized. Each facial feature relates to a scientifically proven personality trait.

Who uses IPI?

I know how difficult it is to find a compatible man who has the same or similar interests to you. In 29 years of clinic, I have treated hundreds of women using combined Kinesiology and Personology techniques, coupled with visualization and belief clearing corrections.

These women are just like you, all from various backgrounds; single women, single mums, newly separated or divorcees, to the friends of mine who are over 35, with their “ticking clock” hoping they will find a man in time to settle down with, and start a family.

How to use IPI

The IPI techniques are easy to learn, you just have to study a man's feature. Each feature can tell you about his personality.

For example, the feature of a man's hairline - does it run straight across the forehead or is it curved?

This e-book will tell you about the man with the straight hairline. (Don't worry if it is curved, receding or shaped like a Widow's Peak, that information is included in the full edition of my book on "the Ultimate guide to Dating Mr Right").

And so, we're going to look at the area below the man's nose...

And, we're going to look above the eyes to see where the eyebrows are positioned...

All of the features will provide you with valuable insights.

It is that easy!

Just look in the mirror,
to see yours!

Just imagine, you are at a function, or looking online, or attending speed dating, and you have the IPI knowledge. How simple to spot qualities of the personality types that align to your "wish list".

If you are "time poor" and "bad experience" rich, you can quickly look for the facial features that will enable a successful and quick connection.

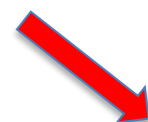

Separated, divorced and widowed women love the help that IPI gives them, to find true love this time around!

Age is no barrier

It works that quickly and easily.

NOW for the 5 easy to learn features that will reveal the personality of all men

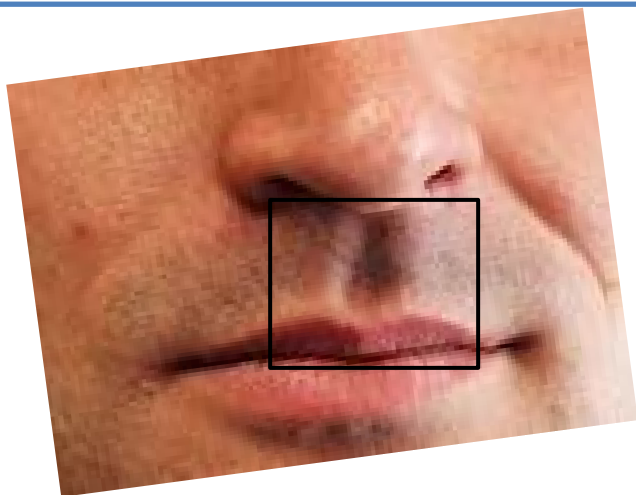

Mr Sexy – Look under his nose

What to Look for:-

The Philtrum: these are the 2 vertical lines under the nose that form a vertical ridge from under the nose to the top of the lip. It relates to energy, stamina, and vitality, in particular, sexual energy. Ideally it should look like two parallel lines from under his nose to his top lip.

How can I connect?

When you first meet this man, make physical contact, whether it be to shake his hands, or squeeze his arm or touch his shoulders. This will anchor a physical connection with between you two.

Meet him anywhere that is intimate, private and secluded, or cozy. He will be ready for some physical contact at the first meeting.

What is he like?:-

The stronger the ridge, the stronger the stamina in all areas of life.

So, if you are lucky enough to have found the “2 strong train tracks”, then this man knows about passion, and will be in touch with his passion, certainly in his personal life and maybe in work.

If the ridge is strong, then his stamina will be strong too in love making.

If it is wide under the nose, but is narrower, at the top lip – well you’re on a good thing. He may not have been so “busy” in his earlier years in the bedroom – but probably will be stronger and skilled now!

If the 2 ridge lines are closer together under the nose and fan out to the top lip – well honey, the man may not have as much stamina as he used to!

Good luck if he is hiding it under a moustache!

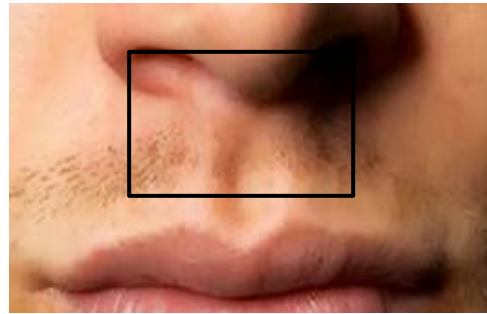

How can I connect with him?

If Mr Sexy has been holding his sexual energy in - he may want to get intimate with you – and quick! As passionate as he wants to get with you, you will notice him pouring passion into everything he does – so if he is about to play you in sport – look out! It might even include a passionate rumble. Even during a board game like Monopoly, chess or cards, he will get very competitive.

Mr Sexy may also possess a vanity streak, (another easy facial feature to spot). He may dress with the objective of showing off his sexuality with tight jeans, or a casually open shirt and, occasionally checking himself out in the mirror when he thinks you're not looking!

What Turns him On?

Find this out in the next book – “15 Dating Secrets to know and find Your Mr Right”

What's a Turn Off?

Telling him to not rush the physical connection. Keeping your hands to yourself! Acting very prudishly. Judging him as being a flirt. (I am not saying fall into bed with him!! Not at all!) Also telling him he is vain will turn him off.

Dating and Romance

Do we really need to talk about this?? I think you will know what happens after a date with Mr Sexy! He will be longing to be with you physically and sexually.

Mr Career– Look at his Hairline

What to Look for:

When viewing this man front on – you will see that his hairline (where the forehead angle begins) is quite straight across the top of the forehead.

His hair grows quite straight across his forehead.

What is he like?:-

When you see this feature, you will know with confidence that Mr Career will focus his energy and dreams on a career that is fulfilling to him. So, he will be very driven and committed to his job, wanting to advance as far as possible.

Now, this can be a very good thing for you, especially if you have a career mind set too.

How Can I connect with him?

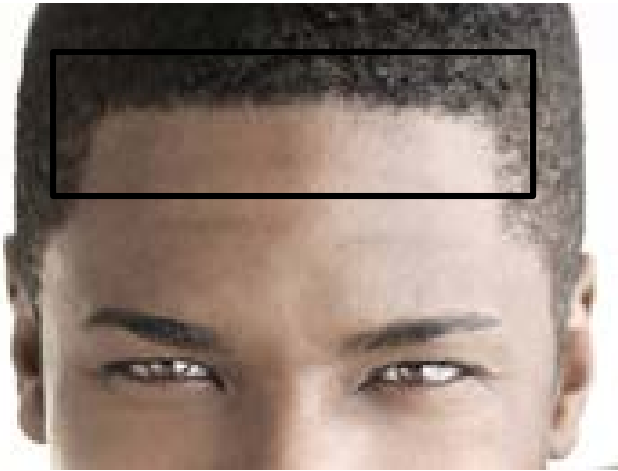

Mr Career will really enjoy talking business if you have a career. So it's good if you are happy to share your career knowledge and business experiences. He will work conscientiously to succeed and to provide a lovely lifestyle for you. Show interest in his career, his aspirations, as well as sharing your career dreams with him.

If he has not quite made it, he will dream about his ideal career and outcomes, like the perfect lifestyle. So swap notes on what a dream lifestyle would be, and support each other in getting there!

How can I connect with him?

The only negative is that he may devote excessive time to his work, but that can change easily once he meets the right woman - YOU !!

TIP

Now see if you can spot these 2 features together on a man: Check his hairline and his philtrum! They form a cluster, so yes, you can combine qualities: He will be a passionate and driven man!

What Turns Him On?:

Find this out in the next book – “15 Dating Secrets to know and find Your Mr Right”

What's a Turn Off?

Telling him there is more to life than work. Bringing up marriage or children or settling down subjects!! Telling him to work less and play more in the early stages of dating.

Dating and Romance Tips

On the date, if you discuss goals, plans and desires, he will enjoy talking about the goals he is trying to achieve. You may find that you have the same dreams and goals in common.

He may not talk about income, but he will talk about work experiences, or dream jobs. He might also love talking about his work mates and might want to bounce idea's off you.

Mr Friendly – Look at my Eyebrows

What to Look for:

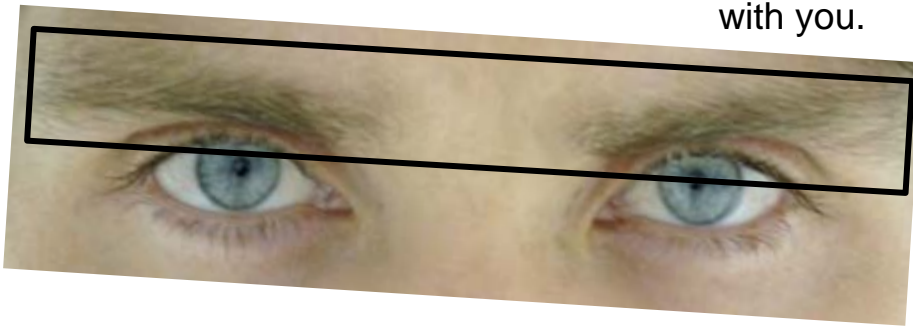

The eyebrows are quite low over the eyes, often straight in shape.

Later we will study 4 other eyebrow shapes/ styles, that will give you insights into the Designer, the Formal and Dignified Man, there is also the “Drama Queen”!

What is he like:-

He is naturally friendly, easy going, with a kind of “go with the flow” attitude. (Even his fashion style is easy).

Don't be surprised if you receive a hug. He would be very comfortable sitting close to you, when you feel you hardly know him – he is just a naturally “touchy feely” man, in a nice way. He may appear to invade your space or comfort zone- yet he just wants to make a quick rapport with you.

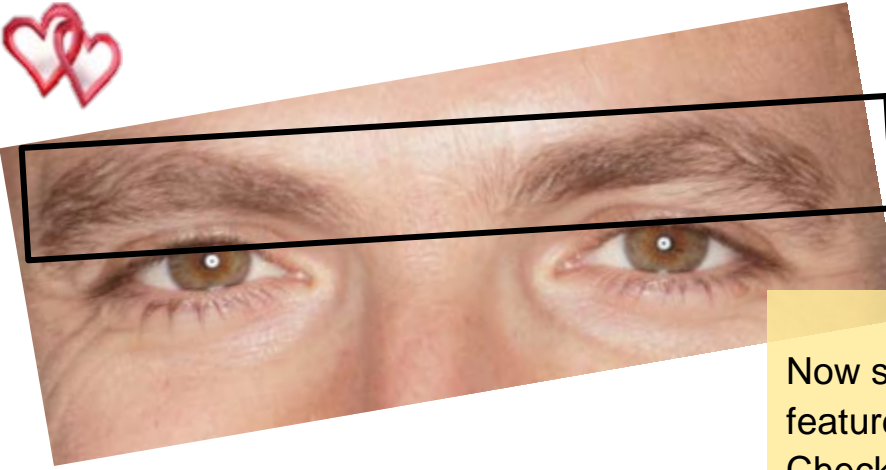

How can I connect with him?

Allow him his friendly comfort zone – offer your handshake or a hug and introduce yourself with your first name. Match his comfort zone. Smile, relax and be friendly. You will find in no time you will feel like you have known him for hours. This is a very natural style and it will continue to be that way.

You have found an instant friend here. Because of his easy style, he will make you feel at ease instantly, and be friendly to those around him, like the waiter, or bartender.

Quite expressive, he is friendly, and at times informal. You will find him straightaway at ease in the venue. Possibly he will be joking with the wait staff, or fellow patrons. So you need to go along with it – just relax, go into a flow mode.

TIP

Now see if you can spot all 3 features together on a man. Check his hairline and his philtrum and his eyebrows! See the Personality forming?

What Turns him On?

Find this out in the next book –

“15 Dating Secrets to know and find Your Mr Right”

What is a Turn Off?

Don't appear distant and aloof. Being too formal or unfriendly will discourage him. Don't judge or be put off by his friendliness, it is not like he is making a move on every woman, he is just being friendly!

Dating and Romance Tips

The man appears to be a “chick magnet” – he will have no trouble attracting dates or lovers or many girl – friends. The only problem is that everyone can be a friend and some may not have got the message that it is over. Not saying he is promiscuous, (that is an ear feature). Dress casually and really go with the flow.

Putting it all Together

So, instead of checking out what they are wearing, or their latest hairstyle, pay particular attention to their most prominent feature – that may be their eyes, nose or lips. Whichever it is, the dominant feature will give the most dominant personality trait.

Next, notice the “T” bar formation – that is, their hairline, eyebrows, eyes, nose, and mouth. This now gives you great insight into some of their powerful personality traits. It also tells you the best way to communicate with someone in their “own language” style.

Let’s see How he is Looking:-

With the 3 features I’ve shown you – does he have a:

Strong Philtrum	YES = Yay Sexy	NO = Oh dear
Straight Hairline	YES = Career driven	NO = Family man
Low Eyebrows	YES = Friendly	NO = Formal

Pam Mountfield – the Author

Hi there,

- ❖ I am a qualified Naturopath, Kinesiologist, Certified Personologist, Hypnotherapist, Counsellor, Homoeopath and Medical Herbalist.
- ❖ I have been in private practice, treating thousand of patients, in Sydney and around Australia for over 29 years. I graduated as a Naturopath in 1986.
- ❖ I completed training in Clinical Hypnotherapy (Dip CH), NLP and Feng Shui Practitioner training back in 1990.
- ❖ In 1986 I began my quest for further knowledge and commenced training in many forms of Holistic Kinesiology. I have taught Kinesiology for over 20 years, around the world.
- ❖ In 1983 I studied Chinese and Japanese face reading for determining personalities, health and life path issues which I use in clinical practice.
- ❖ In 1986, as a result of my interest in face reading, I became passionate about the subject of Human Structure governing Function, in particular, determining people's personalities from studying their facial features and body structure.
- ❖ This is Personology which was founded in 1934 by Dr Edward Vincent Jones. I studied Personology with many experts including Paul Elsner, (an original student of Dr Jones), became certified in the USA Personology Institute; trained with Daniel Whiteside, the son of Robert Whiteside, an original student of Dr Jones and who, through University, statistically validated the accuracy of Personology to 92%.
- ❖ I have had many years experience reading faces at expos, shows, training seminars and in clinic. Over the years I incorporated some Eastern face reading with Personology.
- ❖ I have written 2 International Text books on Personology.
- ❖ I simplified the methodology at the same time, removing the negative judgments. By incorporating my eclectic knowledge of face reading, I developed a process I have called Instant Personality Insights (IPI)™. This process can be used in Professional, Business and Personal life situations.
- ❖ I have presented to the Mind Body Spirit Festival in Sydney for many years, as well as Grand United Health fund, Nutri Metics, Boost Juice, Commonwealth Bank and Grant Thornton as well as Internationally.
- ❖ I have run a very successful clinic in Sydney, and now live in the Southern Highlands just out of Sydney, where I still offer phone consultations and continue to conduct Sydney clinic sessions, as well as assist my International patients.
